

MORNING APPEAL

THURSDAY, JANUARY 30

VICIOUS FOREIGNERS.

A movement is said to be afoot in the Pennsylvania coke region to drive out the vicious foreign element which has caused so much trouble of late years. It was a mistake to open our doors to them in the first place. They have been utilized to break down the wages of labor, and have proved a vicious and ungovernable lot. In their native country they were kept in order by force, and their conduct here proves that they respect no other rule.

The men whose wages have been reduced by the foreign invasion have but to thank the cowardly politicians and office seekers who cater to this class for votes and give them every possible encouragement to think that Americans are laying awake nights to devise means of getting them over here to enjoy the pleasure of their society.

The foreign element has been taught that there is no country so desirable as America, and this crowd have been patted on the back until they think they own the country.

They have bred riot and disturbance, lowered the wages of labor, and today are causing the wives and children of thousands of native born Americans to feel the pangs of hunger.

It is time Americans rose up and called a halt.

A SICO BEEF.

Chris. Hill, the butcher, yesterday bet Jack Richards, clerk in Werrin's store, $100 that he (Richards) could not bring out a beef from the slaughter house on the Ophir grade.

Richards immediately got a day off from his employer and set out to win his bet. He hired three men on the Divide to help him, and they set out afoot for the slaughter house, having but one pair of Norwegian snowshoes with them, but taking plenty of ropes. At the slaughter house they strapped on a stiff rawhide and tied their load on the snowshoes for runners and then struck a bee line, as they thought, for the Belcher works, where a team was waiting for them. But they got away from their bearings, and, after many a mishap, losing their beef in the snow, and fishing and digging it out time and again, they struck the American Flat road at the Knickerbocker works. They got a horse and sleigh to take them from there to their team at Belcher, and from there they drove rapidly to the Hill Brothers' butcher shop, where good, juicy beef can now be bought at prices far below cost.—Enterprise.

The American farmers were told during the last campaign that they were being robbed by the manufacturer's protective tariff, but now comes Mr. Gladstone, who informs us, first, that the manufacturers in free-trade countries, and then goes on to assure the farmers that if he would only use his political influence to put an end to protection then it would be possible for the Americans to grow more corn, wheat and cotton and thus make them cheaper to the English operatives and manufacturers. This is an alluring prospect, but we do not think American farmers will break their necks in an eager rush to realize it.

The Dempsey-McCarthy fight has been postponed on account of the gripe having attacked Dempsey. The majority of Carson sports are anxious to have the fight come off as soon as possible, as most of them have their coin on Dempsey. The knowing ones, however, consider McCarthy a safe investment, especially when it is easy enough to get odds.

David Alexander, a religious crank attempted to assassinate Bishop Whittaker on Sunday night last. He was arrested Monday and committed for trial.

Over five thousand Russians have settled near Eureka, California. There is one place that the gripe will feel at home.
